

How to Read Your Class Schedule

Every student's schedule looks a little different depending on their program of study and the courses they are taking. Your schedule in SIS may not list your classes in the order you will take them, so this guide will help you figure out when, where, and how each of your classes meets. Your schedule may not look exactly like the examples shown here.

Locating Your Schedule

1. After logging into your MyP&HCC account, navigate to your Student Schedule in SIS. If you are actively enrolled in classes, you will see your enrollment in this block.

2. After you click on the Class Enrollment block, you will see a copy of your class schedule and have the option to print a copy. Please note that your schedule may not look like the example below.

Reading Your Schedule

Schedule Item	What It Tells You
Class	The class type (LEC means lecture), the Class# (an ID number for that specific class), and the Section#.
Meeting Dates	The first and last day of the class.
Days and Times	When your class meets. Online classes with no set meeting time often show "To be Announced."
Room	Where your class meets. Online classes often show "To be Announced."

Your Section# is a short code that indicates when, where, and how your class meets. In the example above, W1F means W = web (online), 1 = the first web section, and F = the first 5-week or 8-week session, which is why the class ends in October. An S at the end means the second 5-week or 8-week session. A leading zero is sometimes dropped, so a section of 1 is the same as 01.

Course Modality

The letters and numbers in your section code show how your class is taught.

Section Code	Class Type	What It Means
01, 02, 03	In-person	Meets in a classroom, including Saturday and Sunday classes. 01L is an in-person lab.
W1, W2	Web (online)	All instruction is online. W1L is a web-based lab.
H1, H2	Hybrid	Part in-person and part online, so you come to campus less often. LH1 is a lab hybrid.
01Z, 02Z	Zoom	You attend live on Zoom at the scheduled time. Some hybrid Zoom classes only show an H, so check the course notes.
1X, 2X	HyFlex	You choose whether to attend in person or online. 1XL is a HyFlex lab.
X1, X2	Independent study	Work outside the regular classroom with an instructor. Tip: independent study puts the X first (X1), and HyFlex puts it after the number (1X).

Example 1: HyFlex class (Section# 1XS). The 1X means this is a HyFlex class, so you can choose to attend in person in West Hall, Room 223, or join online. The S means it takes place during the second 5-week or 8-week session, so it runs from October 14 to December 2.

Example 2: Hybrid class (Section# H1S). H1 means this is a hybrid class, so part of the class is online, and the other part meets in person in the MET II Cisco Lab. The S means it is also a second-session class.

✓ ITN 107 - Personal Computer Hardware & Troubleshooting

Status	Units	Grading Basis	Grade	Academic Program	Requirement Designation

Enrollment Deadlines No Exams Scheduled

Example 3: Web (online) class (Section# W1F). The W means this class is completely online. Even though Days and Times and Room both say "To be Announced," that does not mean a schedule is coming later. This is an online class with no set meeting times and no classroom, so you will complete your work online. The F means it is a first-session class, running from August 24 to October 9.

✓ ECO 202 - Principles of Microeconomics

Example 3: Patrick County hybrid class (Section# 71HS). This class meets in person on Mondays and Wednesdays from 4:30 PM to 6:00 PM in Patrick County Rm 103, starting October 14 and ending December 2.
